MORAN TAKING IT TOO EASY FOR HIS BOUT WITH MORRIS

New York, Aug. 15.—Frank Moran evidently refuses to take his coming bout with Carl Morris seriously, and it is not surprising if Morris wins decisively over the blond Pittsburgher. Moran's stock in the boxing world took a big slump after his recent affair with Jack Dillon at Brooklyn, and it will drop even lower unless he does something worth while at Tulsa when he meets Morris.

Carl still is taken seriously in far-away Oklahoma, and from the results of his bouts out there it has been suspected that he battles far above his New standard when engaged in bouts in that section. Moran can hardly afford to regard Morris as an easy proposition, since the big engineer has many natural advantages over the Pittsburgh boy, and furthermore Moran never ranked as a great boxer himself.

Moran is now "working" for the bout, but it is charged that he does not much of his training in an automobile, one of the poorest weight reducers and muscle hardeners known. Frank took his buzz wagon along with him to Oklahoma, and it will not be surprising if he enters the ring with a bigger waistline than when he fought Jack Dillon. If such is the case he will soon be back to the point where he must retire or accept the terms that he was accustomed to draw in his early appearances in local rings.

Old prosperity put many a boxer back in the ranks, and still is working at it. It is a faster trip from the $20,000 purse to the $100 kind than the journey the other way. Moran should buy a padlock for the garage or he may set a record for slipping out of sight that will compare with his record for getting big money without ever owning, or seriously threatening, a title.

GIANTS RECALLING FLEET CUBAN OF NEW LONDON CLUB

New York, Aug. 15.—Five players whom McGraw turned over to minor league clubs last Spring are to be with the Giants again next Spring. It was announced here last night that they are to be recalled and will report as soon as their respective seasons are over. One of the lot is the eminent Sam Rice, who has been outfielding at Milwaukee this year.

Another is Mervin Jacobson, fast stopper, who is playing the outfield for Rochester. A third is Joe Shepper, a young third baseman, who was sent to Albany for more seasoning along with George Sandberg, a young catcher sent to Albany and also to be recalled.

The fifth is Jose Rodriguez, the Cuban infielder, who was placed with the New London team and has been cutting a wide swath with that club.

YOUNG RECTOR'S INJURY NOT SERIOUS AND HE'LL MEET YOUNG MAULIFFE

Fred DeLorme, manager of Young Rector, sends the following regarding a proposed match with Young Mauliffe: "Just a few lines to let you know that Young Rector, the featherweight champion of New Jersey, after having X-ray pictures taken of the injury he had to his left hand, found that there was nothing more serious than a slight strain to the thumb, and as the photographs disclosed a fracture, I immediately signed him up to meet Patsy Cline at Arverne, L. I., on the 24th."

"The reason that I am writing this is, that I feared he would not be able to accept an offer I am expecting from Bridgeport promoter, to have Rector meet Mauliffe in the return match that Mac was yelling for and which I am perfectly willing to go through with, and as Rector's hand will be in shape in a week, there seems no chance for me to refuse Mac's challenge, and believe me the next time Rector meets him, there will be a K. O. and Rector will be the Connecticut champion."

"Rector has proved that he is today one of the foremost contenders for Johnnie Kilbane's crown, and has met them all, and never taking for any weight concerns, has boxed boys weighing as much as 140 lbs. and only last week when he injured his hand, he met Young Fulton who weighed 139 and easily defeated him. Rector weighed 129 ringside without trying, so you see that if Mauliffe really intends to go through with that challenge, he had better make his bluff good, instead of picking upon a lot of third-raters."

"Doesn't Mac want to earn the easy money the promoters give him, or does he want to box a boy who will make him step every inch of the way and in the bargain beat him? This is food for the fans to digest."

SAYS JOHN LUBY BEAT RECORD OF TIM KEEFE

Well, Rice, a former compositor of this city, sends a letter from Shelton to make a correction of the statement about Tim Keefe's pitching record. He writes, "While reading your sporting page the other day I saw that you gave Tim Keefe the record for the major leagues for winning 19 straight games. I take this opportunity to enlighten you the record was beaten years ago. To be exact in 1889 John Luby of the Chicago Nationals won 20 consecutive games. Please make this correction as some of the boys may have made a bet on it."

The strike of the mild wagon drivers at Cleveland has ended.

CLARK GRIFFITH WHO HAS HARD LUCK WITH WASHINGTON

Washington, Aug. 14.—Clark Griffith has been striving to pilot a pennant winner for years, but has not been successful. He led the New York Highlanders and the Cincinnati Reds and failed with both. He has been directing the Washington team for several seasons and has not come through with a champion. This year it appeared as if he stood an excellent chance to cop in Ban Johnson's circuit, but just when he had his club in a winning stride misfortune stepped in and put out of commission one of his best players, First Baseman Joe Judge. Judge was examined by a physician in Washington, and it was discovered that he was suffering from hernia and may have to undergo an operation. It is possible he will not be able to play again this summer. The incapacitation of Judge is the severest blow the Nationals have been dealt in some time. When Judge was injured he was going at his best and gave promise that all the good things which were expected of him were to be realized. Griffith says if it were not for injuries to the players the Senators would have won the pennant easily. Photo shows Griffith batting out to the players.

REM-ARMS PLAY COLONIALS SUNDAY

New Haven, Aug. 15.—The much-talked-about play-off of the sensational Remington-Arms-Colonial 15-inning game of three weeks ago will be staged at the Lighthouse Sunday afternoon by arrangements made last night. The Remingtons are receiving the largest guarantee ever paid a state semi-professional club in this city and will bring down a team which they claim will far surpass anything seen on a local diamond this season.

BRICKLEY'S BROTHER TO FORSAKE HARVARD FOR YALE CAREER, HE SAYS

New Haven, Aug. 15.—Arthur Brickley, a younger brother of Charlie, the Harvard football star, caused quite a stir in local athletic circles yesterday when he announced that he plans to forsake Harvard and enter Yale. No reason is advanced for Arthur's decision to enter the local university in preference to that at which his brother made a great name for himself at football.

He is summing with his brother at Monasquin. Arthur is reputed to be a star athlete himself, and will go to Everett high school at the close of vacation.

PORTLAND SOAKS HOUSE HARD AND BEATS BRIDGEPORT

(Special to The Farmer.)

Portland, Aug. 15.—Shanty House's winning streak was broken today when Portland landed heavily on the Bridgeport hurler for an 8 to 3 victory. The league leaders had their batting lamps trimmed and went right after House from the start. Plitt, who pitched for Portland, was effective although Bridgeport managed to tap him occasionally. Although he wasn't at his best in the hurling department, House managed to hit for a double and single.

Portland picked up three runs in the opening inning. Clemens singled, Burns doubled, Brown clouted for three bases and this combination with a fielder's choice thrown in for good measure allowed three runs. In the sixth House and Deiningler let a high fly drop between them. Brown followed this with another three bager and when Dowell and Sweet singled three more tallies resulted.

Flaherty's double, House's out and Blake's sacrifice fly produced a run for Bridgeport in the third. House worked around in the sixth on his two bager, a passed ball and an out. In the ninth Jake Warner hit for a base, took second on an out and counted on Briggs' smash. The score:

New York, Aug. 15.—Silently, one by one, to the crippled ranks of the Yankees, come back the missing stars.—The Magees and the Higgs and the Bakers. Baker wasn't in the game at the Polo Grounds yesterday, but Magee followed high back into the battle line and assisted his comrades to defeat the Athletics by 4 to 3.

It was quite an afternoon for Nick Cullop. He pitched only five and two-third innings, but nevertheless is credited with his eleventh victory of the season. This makes eleven wins out of twelve starts for Nick, which is a very creditable record for either a right or a left hander. With a good early lead given him by his comrades, Cullop was breezing along very comfortably up to the fifth inning. The first man to face him in that frame was Haley, who in the absence of Schanz is doing considerable catching for the Mackmen. Haley selected a ball that he liked and leaped against it with a swing that started from around the corner. The stricken pellet advanced upon Nicholas Cullop with something more than the muzzle velocity of a three inch shell. It struck him in the leg and knocked him flat.

His comrades gathered around him prepared to bear him back to the hospital, but after a few moments he revived and resumed his business of hurrying. It was evident, however, that the usefulness of that leg had been impaired. It was of little service as a prop and it affected his twirling to such an extent that late in the sixth inning Ray Fisher was called to the rescue.

All was serene during the first round. The favorites asserted their supremacy without being threatened seriously by those who aspire to their places. William M. Johnston and Richard Norris Williams, 2d, who are considered with deep regard when the national championship is under discussion, came through their matches without being extended. In the upper half of the John Johnston vanquished D. Champin at 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, while Williams, in the lower half, was defeating a youngster, A. A. Waters, whose ambition was far greater than his skill. The former Harvard collegian won at 6-1, 6-2, 6-0.

Two other prominent players, Maurice E. McLoughlin and Robert Lindley Murray, did not appear for their first round matches yesterday. McLoughlin is in Chicago playing with Ward Dawson in the preliminary national doubles at the Onwenta club. The impression prevailed that the Comet would come if he met defeat in the first round of the doubles, and there is more than a suspicion that those in charge of the Newport invitation tournament wish him ill-luck in Chicago so that they may get him here. Murray is also entered for the event, but it is decidedly doubtful whether he will play. The Palo Alto star has been playing considerable tennis lately and his game has gone back rather than improved. Hence it is likely that Murray will not test his strength again until Southampton and the nationals.

Among those who advanced today were Watson M. Washburn, who obtained the second-round bracket by reason of default.

BROOKLAWN STARS AT NEW LONDON

The Brooklawn Country club will be represented at the Shenecton tournament at New London this week. It is expected that the following Brooklawn golfers will enter: John T. Hubbard, W. Parker Seeley, Kenneth E. Weeks, Henry B. Stoddard and George Sparling. The Brooklawn club will also send a delegation to the one day tournament of the Highland club to be held at Westfield, August 29.

The Ozanam track team will practice at the race track, Seaside park, tonight, at 6 o'clock. All members wishing to make the team should report early.

Tomorrow evening the Ozanam baseball team will practice. All those wishing to get a place on the team report a tNo. 1 diamond, Seaside park.

Short Sections of Fan Fodder

TALKING FOOTBALL NOW.

Faint rumblings of football are already heard in this section although the baseball season is still in its prime. The Annex A. C. of New Haven is talking about plans for the coming campaign. The Elm City boys are undecided whether to hire a bunch of stars or rely entirely upon New Haven talent. There was much sentiment last year in favor of having all local talent but the players think they draw better if they engage a few crack collegians.

If the Annex boys put their usual strong team in the field there will probably be a series with the eleven which Mike Healy intends to have at Newfield park. Healy says his team will be stronger than ever.

The Phillies gained ground on both Boston and Brooklyn by taking two contests from the Giants yesterday. Moran's men are still very much in the race and are likely to win out if their opponents show the slightest sign of faltering.

That Portland club contains a bunch of hard hitters. They outclass the league in that respect and it is hard to see how New London can prevent the Maine boys from winning the pennant.

Jack Dell didn't last long with New Haven. Although he did some good hitting, Manager Murphy released him because Dell had a bad arm. Reed, who, with Hartford earlier in the season, was signed for the outfield.

Joe Briggs and Jake Warner contributed their daily hits in Portland, even if the Hustlers did take a beating.

YANKEES FINALLY FINISH SLUMP BY BEATING MACKMEN

New York, Aug. 15.—Silently, one by one, to the crippled ranks of the Yankees, come back the missing stars.—The Magees and the Higgs and the Bakers. PHILLIES GAIN BY DEFEATING GIANTS IN DOUBLE HEADER

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—The fielding of the Giants yesterday was muddled, especially in the second game; their base running was bad on occasions; their batting was not effective in either game, and their batting was of the thinnest texture in the first and uncertain in the second. They were beaten twice by the Phillies, first by 8 to 0 and then by 7 to 4.

The New Yorkers suffered in the first game from a famine of base hits. Face to face with the superb pitching of Alexander, their batting contracted to such an extent that they made only four hits, and only 29 of them faced the peerless Grover. The young master never was better, and the attack of the Giants was an aching void. Herzog made the only clean hit off Alexander. The other three by Herzog, Kauff and Hunter were scratches.

Benton was hit profusely in the first game, but not to the extent of eight runs. He had ragged support, though perfect support would not have saved him. The Giants batted as busily as the Phillies in the second, but the Phillies excelled in delivering hits when they needed hits, and far outdid the Giants in fielding. Rixey was no better than Anderson as a pitcher, but the one had first class support and the other had no support.

George Burns tried something new at the outset of the second game. He doubled and endeavored to go to third on a short fly from Doyle to Whitted. George arrived in due time, but the ball had grown old waiting for him. Kauff put the ball in the center field seats in the second inning, seeing which the Phillies decided it was time to make a few runs.

Anderson was hammered riotously in the second, but not until a battery error had opened the way to four of the five runs amassed by the Quakers in that inning. Grover, stung, Whitted fled to Kauff, Luderus walked and Bancroft doubled and sent in one run. Anderson threw out Luderus at the plate, and there were two strikes on Rixey when he swung at one which Koehler missed. Two runs speeded through on the passed ball, and hits by Pasquet and Niehoff added two.

Rixey pitched poorly in the last three innings. He couldn't keep his opponents off the bases. In the seventh only were the needed hits produced. Herzog, Merkle, Fletcher and Koehler promoted a three-run rally then, Merkle with a pass and the others with hits.

ENTRIES FOR BIG NEW HAVEN MEET CLOSE SOON

Connecticut athletes among our readers, who intend entering the A. A. U. Connecticut championships on Yale field, August 19th, must send in their entries at one of their club Wednesday evening and no post entries can be received.

Already most of the leading athletes of the state have entered these games and competition in field, which includes running high and running broad jump, shot-put, discus, and javelin throwing, and the swimming track, which includes events from 100 yards to 5 miles, will be such as has never before been seen in an athletic meet of Connecticut amateurs. While the competition for first honors will be the finest ever seen in Connecticut and it is expected that many new records will be made, the competition for junior or second honors and for third honors with fine A. A. U. medals, leaves ample room for beginners, who have not gone as far in the game as the crack athletes.

Among those who have already entered are: Jimmy Roche of New Haven, Hector Aury of Waterbury, both of whom have won honors in the Metropolitan championships of the A. A. U.; A. J. Howard of New Haven; Edwin Haub of Waterbury; H. R. Swanson and a number of Star A. C. men of Bridgeport; Edward Sandberg of New Britain, who was never better at the five miles; Roy Downes of Danbury, and a big entry list of the best athletes of the Bristol Independent A. C. Sandy Evans of Waterbury, the champion half miler, has dropped out of the game apparently this year as his name is not in the list of entries.

Jack Culhane, former captain of the Danbury high school track team, is entering for the 100 yards, which he is said to do in 10-5 and the running broad jump in which his record is said to be 21 feet, 1-1-3 inches. Charles DuBois, the great distance runner of Bridgeport, formerly member of the Hollywood Athletic Club, Yonkers, but now a resident of Connecticut, is entered for the 5 miles. D. N. Tucker of Waterbury, who has won the 100 yards championship of the state on one or two occasions by not more than a fifth of a second, if not a champion this year will be mighty near to it at
